1. This opinion contains indications relating to the following items:

- ☒ Box No. I Basis of the opinion
- ☐ Box No. II Priority
- ☐ Box No. III Non-establishment of opinion with regard to novelty, inventive step and industrial applicability
- ☐ Box No. IV Lack of unity of invention
- ☒ Box No. V Reasoned statement under Rule 43bis.1(a)(i) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement
- ☐ Box No. VI Certain documents cited
- ☐ Box No. VII Certain defects in the international application
- ☐ Box No. VIII Certain observations on the international application

2. FURTHER ACTION

If a demand for international preliminary examination is made, this opinion will be considered to be a written opinion of the International Preliminary Examining Authority ("IPEA") except that this does not apply where the applicant chooses an Authority other than this one to be IPEA and the chosen IPEA has notified the International Bureau under Rule 66.1bis(b) that written opinions of this International Searching Authority will not be so considered.

If this opinion is, as provided above, considered to be a written opinion of the IPEA, the applicant is invited to submit to the IPEA a written reply together, where appropriate, with amendments, before the expiration of 3 months from the date of mailing of Form PCT/ISA/220 or before the expiration of 22 months from the priority date, whichever expires later.

For further opinions, see Form PCT/ISA/220.

PCT/SE2005/000244

Box No. I      Basis of this opinion

1. With regard to the language, this opinion has been established on the basis of the international application in the language in which it was filed, unless otherwise indicated under this item.

☐ This opinion has been established on the basis of a translation from the original language into the following language, _____, which is the language of a translation furnished for the purposes of international search (under Rules 12.3 and 23.1(b)).

2. With regard to any nucleotide and/or amino acid sequence disclosed in the international application and necessary to the claimed invention, this opinion has been established on the basis of:

a. type of material

- ☐ a sequence listing
☐ table(s) related to the sequence listing

b. format of material

- ☐ in written format
☐ in computer readable form

c. time of filing/furnishing

- ☐ contained in the international application as filed.
☐ filed together with the international application in computer readable form.
☐ furnished subsequently to this Authority for the purposes of search.

3. ☐ In addition, in the case that more than one version or copy of a sequence listing and/or table relating thereto has been filed or furnished, the required statements that the information in the subsequent or additional copies is identical to that in the application as filed or does not go beyond the application as filed, as appropriate, were furnished.

Box No. V Reasoned statement under Rule 43bis.1(a)(i) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

1. Statement

Novelty (N)	Claims	1-8	YES
	Claims		NO
Inventive step (IS)	Claims	1-7	YES
	Claims	8	NO
Industrial applicability (IA)	Claims	1-8	YES
	Claims		NO

2. Citations and explanations:

The following documents were cited as particularly relevant:

D1: WO 02055245 A1

D2: US 5931613 A1

The invention relates to a cutting tool with connecting surfaces of serration type between the basic body and the cutting insert. The primary object of the invention is to provide a cutting tool that guarantees an even and reliable distribution of the cutting forces acting on the cutting insert.

Document D1 represents closest background art.

Claim 1

Document D1 reveals an indexable insert (fig. 6) for a cutting tool having a serrated connecting surface with a plurality of mutually parallel ridges. The ridges are divided in two sets on the connecting surface.

The invention differs from the document in that the insert according to invention has one or several transverse ridges. The difference solves the problem of achieving a more even distribution of the cutting forces.

The person skilled in the art faces the problem of providing a cutting insert with improved properties regarding securing of the insert and distribution of forces acting on the insert.

In document D2 a cutting insert is revealed which is intended to in an optimal way carry axial and radial forces.

Supplemental Box

In case the space in any of the preceding boxes is not sufficient.

Continuation of: BOX V

The insert (fig. 6) is provided with two parallel ridges (6) with a groove (3) and a transverse ridge (4).

For a person skilled in the art it seems to be an obvious solution to, in background to what is revealed in D2, provide the cutting insert in D1 with a transverse ridge passing through the serrated areas.

Therefore, the claim lacks inventive step.

According to the arguments stated above, the invention according to claim 1-8 is novel. Claims 1-7 are considered to involve an inventive step while claim 8 lacks inventive step. The invention according to claims 1-8 is considered to be industrially applicable.
